'So The People May Know'

AN OPEN LETTER TO COUNTY OFFICIALS, RELIEF AND HUMANITARIAN AGENCIES.

A few henchmen of Supervisor Witt, evidently without his full appreciation of the gravity of the situation, have assumed the proprietorship of all things civic and economic in Brisbane.

Their activities have brought Brisbane into disrepute in many quarters, and a large majority of Brisbane citizens resent this situation deeply.

From South City to Redwood—and even on the political outskirts of Sacramento—officials throw up their hands and exclaim "Whats the matter with Brisbane?"—why can't you people get together—why bother us with these petty things that you should settle among yourselves. Give us the real expression of Brisbane and we will be glad to do what we can for you.

Answer—Voters League

The Voters League, as an organization has a commendable expression of its principles, and an admirable preamble to its by-laws, and not touching on the results of its activities in other sections—in Brisbane it has faulty leadership. Penurious, petty, bigoted, shallow and shortsighted, and oftentimes vicious in its expression, the organization is only rotten at the core, and with a house-cleaning long past due, it might well function in a fertile field of opportunity for usefulness. In the past the Sun has week after week endeavored to point out that it should broaden its policies and practices to allow for a variance of opinion. That it should reach out for a representative membership, to attract all elements of the community that all might participate in its efforts.

Instead it has persisted in its rigid self-assumption and arrogance to the point where it has become impossible to attract the best citizens into its fold. It has made prospective members disgusted with its personal mouthings, and ridiculous claims. It has steadily lost in its promised prestige. The usual meeting contains from 12 to 15—the same group with little variation. A few new applications of people who never appear, or do so only once. Its executive board does most of its business in anticipation of its meetings—princes the "mosquito abatement" matter.

False Claims of Accomplishment

As inflated reports are brought back from this board, the meetings give every evidence of a group of "yes-men" who with little discussion adopt everything offered pronto, and woe to him who pleads for a little deliberation.

A long line of successive failure and a few notable successes in wrong directions have marked its course. Newcomers to Brisbane marvel at the factional lines drawn, but soon have to reconcile themselves to this career by carefully ignoring it, and attempting to go on their way in peace.

Door to door solicitation on questionable trivialities have become an outstanding nuisance, and many protests reach the Sun that some stand should be taken by the people of Brisbane against this continuing pose of representation which in reality is constant misrepresentation.

Desperate Measures

Because of our proper advocacy of policies we deem in the best interests of Brisbane, as in the past, the Editor has received threats of physical violence, before witnesses. If any of you Brisbaneites have been favored with similar threats, look out for the car that crowds you off the high road, as this is one modern method of the outlaw to allay suspicion, with a little booze added to supply bravado.

But another matter which has received considerable discussion in Brisbane, but with which county authorities may not be so particularly concerned, is the Boycott.

Shades of "Co-operation" and ghosts of "Support Home Industry"!

Oh, You Boycott

For many months a small group, just around a half dozen, have carried on an active boycott effort against one useful Brisbane agency—the Brisbane Sun. Each of our advertisers has been approached repeatedly, and pleaded with, and threatened. The thing was so ridiculous, coming from so few notorious agitators, that in all quarters it was received as a huge joke, after the first resentment passed.

But the same un-American tactics were immediately brought into play from the time of the first announcement of the organization of Brisbane Chamber of Commerce.

Some vulnerable spots were found in this campaign, but matters quickly righted themselves—and the "Boycott" was pleasantly handed back as not wanted in Brisbane, thank you.

Our Messed-Up School Situation

With desperately inadequate school facilities, a fast growing population, and shortage of district funds, Brisbane faces a most serious situation before school is to reopen this fall.

At the last School election, the Sun supported Mr. Terry as a candidate, in an effort to get a helpful colleague for our personally ambitious but officially ineffective present School Trustee.

Apathy of Brisbane voters, and nothing else defeated Mr. Terry, for of the votes cast, he received almost unanimous support of all so-called sections of our populace.

Something must be done about school matters in Brisbane that has not so far come about, and the matter challenges the best thought of all our people.

THE OTHER FELLOW

By JOHN LOHEIT

The other fellow ought to do
The things I leave undone;
I like to hand out free advice
And counsel by the ton.
What the other fellow ought to do
Is save his hard earned dough,
And put it in some savings bank—
'Twill keep him from much woe;
While I blow in my hardearned cash
For lager beer and wine—
What business does it make to them,
I earn it—it is mine.
The other fellow ought to speak
In accents soft and mild;
Eschew all gossip, scandal shun,
And praise his neighbor's child.
While I would like to tell the world,
In accents pretty strong,
And tell some folks just what think
And how they done me wrong.
It makes me feel like seven cents,
I view with much alarm
The way some people gad about,
And do each other harm.
The other fellow has a way
Of making life a bore;
He peddles gossip day and night—
Would make Saint Peter sore.
Sometimes I see my good friend Bill
Come singing home one night.
I have to run and tell his wife,
For such a thing ain't right.
In summer when the days are long
It's time for thrifty habits;
The other fellow should make hay
To feed his cows and rabbits;
But as for me, I like to sit
Or wander through some glade,
And look in rapture on some scene
Beneath some leafy shade.
It is a most perplexing thing,
To me it's most absurd—
Why people pay so little heed
When good advice is heard.
The other fellow is to blame,
I feel it pretty strong;
My free advice he will not take—
That's why the world is wrong.

FIRE DEPT. NEWS

Two false alarms—one at 1:50 and one at 2:15 p. m., Monday, the 14th. Bell was sounded and when answered by Capt. Pergeaux, two small boys were seen running away.

An alarm was answered on Friday the 11th at 9:35 a. m., but turned out to be a large rubbish fire on Sierra Point and Humboldt road. Burning without a permit.

On May 14th, electric apparatus and appliances were inspected and approved at Commissioner J. Miller's residence, by Asst. Inspector Chief Schmidt.

Firemens Dance tonight; May 19 at Social Hall. A good time [illegible]

On May 15th, at 3 p. m. [illegible] turning into the district, Capt. Pergeaux notified Chief Schmidt that our Fire Bell and frame was knocked down and arm on [illegible] broken into several pieces. This was reported to have happened in the morning about 9 o'clock. If an emergency call or alarm was to be sounded we certainly would have been in a very bad position. We ask cooperation from our citizens again. Shall this reoccur, kindly notify some member of the Fire Dept. at once. This is very important. We are here for your protection, so kindly help to protect our property also.

F. SCHMIDT, Fire Chief.

A NEW CODE—L. T. C. C.

By FRANK W. GIBSON,
Santa Clara St., Brisbane

Acting on the assumption that all preceding letter Codes were a success and have achieved the Desired Results, why stop now when there are a lot more unused letters?

No one questions the Net results of the first two thousand such Edicts, that startled a waiting world the first of last year. Are we become complacent now with too much prosperity and justified in sitting back, resting upon our laurels? No, and again, No.

Where a little is good, more is better.

Having supplied the Physical Man with all that he desired, are we to neglect the Moral and Spiritual Side of his Nature?

A full stomach and new Shoes are undeniably condusive to that sense of well-being so lacking since 1929, but why stop here. Such action would be simply to nullify the results already gained and jeopardize the attainment of the Goal Hoped for but not Seen.

Tony, Tom and Jim have still a long way to go before we can point with pride to them as model citizens in a World Safe for Democracy.

Give credit where credit is due, and our old friend His Satanic Majesty comes in for his share with the rest. Let's not overlook the fact that a Checked Suit and Tan Shoes doesn't make for Moral Fibre.

Just here, lets explain; get down to cases.

Call a spade a spade, do our stuff like all good He men from the Sage Brush.

Back to the good old Code—
L. T. C. C.
the one Code needed to fulfill the plan of all others. Physical wants supplied, man's thoughts revert to channels of Pleasure, Recreation and Entertainment.

In his efforts to acquire these, he needs a Car, Radio and a Gallon of Gas. Having them, just watch his smoke. Boy-oh-boy, ain't he settin' pretty!—the world is his oyster.

Look out, you poor, unfortunate mortal on foot. Though provided by Nature with two perfectly good feet, you haven't a leg to stand on.

Just watch him side-swipe, wreck and humiliate his fellows of the open road. Watch his arrogance and disdain for the Man Afoot.

What the psychology? Gas to Guts; the once timid man afoot is now a roaring Demon behind the wheel. Rushing here, there and everywhere, with no regard for others; no sympathy for his fellow sufferers of his Pre-Gas Era.

Watch him fumble with the gears or brake or what have you, simply to ignore your plea for a ride, a lift to the car line. Such pretence, such hypocrisy on his part—subtle efforts to hide his petty dwarfish traits of character.

A careful check of the period 1931-1934 reveals the astonishing fact that the mass mind has become warped from lying out in the Sun too much. Production managers, recognizing the new trend have adapted their goods to the changed condition, supplying Sea Wave Bed Springs, Corkscrew B.V.D.'s and the like.

A summary of the foregoing facts coupled with dire threat impending make it mandatory at this time now! immediately! pronto!—To adopt the New Code, one and all. A nature so mean and lowly that must resort to subterfuge, trickery and deceit to mask the deficiency of the nobler instincts is not to be trusted, and is apt to pay you a visit After Dark—so, take heed— L. T. C. C.

BRISBANE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO LEND CO-OPERATION

Brisbane Chamber of Commerce has received the following letter from the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce:

May 15, 1934.

Chamber of Commerce, Brisbane.

Gentlemen—The San Mateo Co. budget for the fiscal year 1934-35 is now in the process of formation. The county road engineer is receiving suggestions regarding plans and projects for the period.

The South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce believes that if the First township is to receive its fair share of county road funds we must make our wants known at Redwood City. To this end we are calling a meeting of representatives of City Councils, Chambers of Commerce and improvement clubs in this area at 7 p. m. on May 22 at the City Hall in South San Francisco.

We request you to gather all necessary data on any road projects in your area to be taken care of by the county. It is our purpose to set up an organization which can effectively represent the First township before the Board of Supervisors. We want to place in the hands of this organization the information which you will prepare for the meeting of the 22nd. We hope within a week after the organization is effected that the county engineer, the county manager, the Board of Supervisors will know precisely what the first township wants in the way of road work in the year 1934-35.

We ask your co-operation in this matter, because by concerted action only can we make our demands effective. Yours very truly,
South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, R. L. Spangler, Mgr.

The executive committee of our Chamber has appointed delegates to attend this conference.

ATTRACTIVE AD DISPLAY

"Thumb Your Nose at the Landlord"—"C-curses!" says the Landlord as he slinks away — for the happy home owner holds in his hand his entire pay-check. Such is the intriguing story told by an illustrated musical display supplied by the Marsea Travel Sign Co., as part of an advertising campaign being put on by Arthur Annis, offering lots in Brisbane at $65—at $1 a week, to be moved about San Francisco and adjacent territory for several weeks. Brilliantly portrayed are a Brisbane cottage with its happy surroundings.

'IT FLOATS'

By IVORY

If you see a gopher snake go-fer a gopher, dont go-fer the gopher snake, for these harmless snakes go-far when they go-fer gophers.—Says Richard Earhart.

Ivory says the trouble with most bombshells, is that they stink for quite a while.

Last Thursday night the Voters League held a successful whist at their hall. Incidentally, the announcement on the bulletin board at the tract office read, "Whist—Part of ProcEdes for a sick ResEdent of Brisbane."

It is reported that 15 Brisbane men made complaint in South City regarding the conduct of the road work here. Whats the matter, Boys—isnt everything just exactly hotsy-totsy?

The suggestion has come to our Contest Editor that he open entries in a contest for "The Forgotten Man," and the Sanitary Board proposes an "elimination" contest.

Our Roamin' Reporter

An enjoyable week-end party at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong included the following guests from San Francisco: Mrs. Julia Christian and son Ray Davis, and Alice and Grace Leahy, nieces of Mr. Armstrong.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Schmidt became ill and was taken to Beresford Hospital for observation and diagnosis this week. The youngster may be away for several days.

On last Tuesday, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bergmann was taken seriously ill, necessitating an emergency trip to U. C. Hospital, where she is under the care of Dr. Lucas, the family physician. Today's report is that the baby is much better.

At Mrs. Whaley's home, this afternoon, a Mrs. Lovely from San Francisco will have something of interest to present in conducting a meeting at 2 o'clock for the children of Brisbane. All children are urged to be present.

With a whiz and a buzz, in the early dawn of the Sunday morn, May 20th, one of our local boys, Leroy Whitaker, will join hundreds of other motorcycle fans, in a trip to Merced to attend the motorcycle convention to be held in that city.

Visitors to Brisbane last Sunday —Mrs. L. Cunningham and son Chalmers from Bay Shore were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Coffin, in San Benito road.

A baby shower was given in anticipation of the blessed event for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Royce, At the home of Mrs. T. Van Kirk, on Wednesday, May 16th, many beautiful and useful gifts for the layette were presented by the nineteen ladies present. The afternoon was spent in an enjoyable game of bridge, with refreshments.

May 19 to 26 is designated as "Clean-Up Week" in South City, in which the Chamber of Commerce organizes group to eliminate fire hazards, and improve appearances. Boy Scouts are aiding.

ORCHIDS

"The appreciation of the local Longshoremen is expressed to the Editor for editorial of last week. Mr. Ben Miller took the paper to the Union Hall, where it was posted for the men to read."

AMBITION THWARTED

Brisbane Loses First Chance at the Grand Prix

It is admirable for Brisbane to aspire to have the biggest these and those, as well as the most dogs. Enterprise is generally to be commended — but she overtrained on Wednesday of this week, when she reached out for the championship in an untrodden and virgin field—that of sporting the biggest cowbell in the world.

The animal picked to proudly breast the blue ribbon was Royce's gentlest bovine, alias Patsy. In the effort she was silently abetted by her cousin Bessie. First there was attached to Patsy's modestly blushing neck, a section of rope. Near the end of this became attached the Brisbane Fire Tower, and well balanced and symmetrically placed at the altitudinous extremity of this was the Bell, weighing nigh onto 300 pounds.

Everything looked ducky to Bossy, and trippingly she started the parade to present Brisbane to the World, as the originator of the Largest Cowbell in the Universe. But alas, the camel's back was lousy with straws. The load was too much. Valiantly Patsy strove to uphold the honor of her bailiwick, but the bell only quivered.

With a supreme effort, Bessy, hiding her embarrassment, ventured another try, taking another hitch in her tether. Chagrined, Brisbane found it had taken in too much territory for the championship. The bell tower was handled O. K. until it reached a horizontal position alongside Bossy's rotund flanks, but in the effort the ringing trigger of her bell was broken into several pieces, and the 4x4's were found not adequate to uphold this cowbell in adequate trim, so the committee having the matter in charge have decided another attempt must be made with better equipment. Cows are building up their morale, and Firemen are doing well—ding!

P.-T. A. ACTIVITIES

The last round-up for the P.-T. A. big lunch on Friday, May 25th, at Social Hall, 12 to 1, at the very nominal price of 20c. O-oh how can you stay away! The proceeds from these lunches are for your child's health and dental work. Brisbane unit has done much during the year for those who were in need.

The annual play-day of Seventeeth District C. C. Parent-Teachers was held yesterday from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m., in the form of an international fair, presented in the San Mateo Junior College gym. An interesting program was enjoyed, most of the forty units in the district participating in the stunts. Proceeds are used for child welfare work in San Mateo County.

After three years continuous effort, Seventeenth District P.-T.A. is now absolute owner of the cup awarded by the state assn. for the largest amount of money given for student loans in proportion to dist. membership. As chairman of this department, Mrs. J. R. Spann is largely to be honored for promoting this feather in the cap of the Seventeenth District, of which Brisbane is a part.

THE CONTEST COL'M

By R. EARHART, Brisbane, Calif.

Well, Folks, the Chamber of Commerce "Seal Contest" brought forth a number of "seal ideas," an' we gives the first yen to Mrs. Robt. Netzer, who's "idea" was bestest, to our way of looking at things. Then folks, de second smacker goes to Charles Goss, who submitted several good lay-outs. An' den, folks, the third doughnut is added to the bankroll of Danny Kennie, whose drawing was a good "idea," too. An we is sorry we hasn't more money to give de udder folks. Corse, better luck nex' time.

So folks, we is getting a location for the "marble-shooting contest." We needs a kind of level place an' we will have de marbles an' de prizes will amount to $5.00, which flock of money will be divided suitable, by Chief Schmidt, who, with his Fire Boys, will find de bes' marble-shooter in Brisbane. So, folks, we will converse wid Chief Schmidt at The Firemen's Dance, this coming Saturday night, an' agree on the date an' place for de big shootin'. You know, folks, the Firemen's Dance last Saturday was such a success dat de Fire-boys has to repeat dis next Saturday, by special request. Now, folks, de same 5 musicians will be on hand, an' folks, dos boys play real dance music, an' folks de moral atmosphere will be well taken care of by de lads in blue. We hopes we sees you folks, all dare.

So, folks, we makes a special ask why you all don't plant more trees? An folks, Verner V. McClurg, de architect, makes a hit wid us when he says "The glory of our flowering trees should be multiplied a thousand-fold." An folks, "the statement that more plants from more climes will prosper here more than anywhere else on earth is particularly true of the blossoming trees.

"Where we have now the glory of one blue jacaranda, let us have a thousand, and a thousand scarlet eucalypti, and a thousand rose-colored eucalypti, and a thousand golden-flowering acacias of midwinter; and a thousand flame trees, and a thousand coral trees, and a thousand Japanese cherries and a thousand Chinese flowering peaches and a thousand pink locusts, and a thousand pink magnolias, and then another thousand, and another.

"Let us not forget the charm of fruit trees in the garden, too.

"It is nothing against the beauty of a tree that it gives profit, and food as well. The first spring blossoms we have, right at the new year, are the shell-pink flowers of the common almond. Among the prettiest of all spring flowers are the rose-colored blossoms of the feijoa or pineapple guava.

"The sweetest perfumes we enjoy are distilled by the blossoms of orange and lemon. The gayest autumn colors to decorate our houses and gardens are of the fruits of the persimmon and the pomegranate. The best medicines we can use are of the fig and apricot. The most grateful shade we know is of the cool and stately walnut.

"Show me a developed town with no trees and I will show you a town to avoid as a home for your families. Go through districts where want and squalor and crime and filth are the rule, and you will be lucky to find even a gaunt specimen of a tree anywhere about. This is not by chance; the planted and tended tree is as sure a sign of civilization as a revered flag or a church spire or a schoolhouse belfry; and the English, who have carried civilization to every part of their dominions scattered far and wide about the earth, plant shade trees almost before they finish their houses or start their towns.

"Now if you will go home and plant one tree, or a hundred trees, I shall not then have taken your time in vain The little twig you plant today may live to give shade and beauty and health and comfort for three or four hundred years."

So folks, do try an' plant lil ol' tree soons yer can. An, folks, we do hopes yer is enjoying de flowers which is all around us, even if we don't own 'em.

Well folks, we is sorry to take more time on the Garden Club announcement, but we has to. There's lots of winners here in Brisbane an' we hopes to do justice by all. An' folks, it's lots of work for de ol' man.

So folks, we'll B seein' yer. O Boy we wil.

—O—

"The gum-chewing girl
And the cud-chewing cow
Are somewhat alike,
Yet different somehow.
"But, how can that be?
Oh, yes, I see now—
It's the calm, thoughtful look
On the face of the cow."

SCOUTS

By
Charles Goss
Junior Asst.
Scoutmaster

This week we have a lot to talk about, and a lot of work to do, also.

First, I want to tell you about this coming whist, which will be the best whist ever held in Brisbane —and that is a fact. There are going to be plenty of prizes besides a door prize, and believe me, they are all good ones, too. The tickets are being sold at 25c each, from any Scout or Cub or officials, so get your tickets now before they are all gone, for there are only a limited number.

This whist will take place at the Social Hall on Thursday evening, May 24th, at 8 o'clock, so don't forget the date, and be there. The money will go to a fund to build a Boy Scout meeting hall in one of the parks—and that is a good need.

Card Table Contest

Second on the list is a card table gift event that will take place in the near future. The card table is an electric shuffler and dealer—all there is to do is to put the cards in a slot and it deals out 13 cards to each player. Plays any game where 13 cards are dealt—how's that for a "premium"? The table is to be displayed at the Jonas Drug Store Monday, so just take a look at it, then take a chance and try to get this wonderful mechanical table. This table was donated to the Scouts for a gift article by the Redlick-Newman Co. of San Francisco by Mr. F. Z. Newman himself.

The prizes for the whist and gift event were solicited by the Scoutmaster, N. Brown, and Mrs. O. J. Williams—and thanks to them.

Another the Scouts want to thank is Mr. Annis, for he gave the Scouts a part of a uniform and other clothing, which can be worn by the Scouts who can't pay for their uniforms; also a game for the Cubs to play with We thank you.

The Scouts feel that Redlick-Newman Co. were very generous, and let's all show our appreciation and adopt a Slogan—When in need of Household Furnishings, Buy at Redlick-Newman Co.

That's all—thank you.
